

Trail #	Trail Name	Miles	Difficulty Rating
		(one way)
4W306	Manastash Ridge	8.6	More Difficult
4W307	Tripod Flat	5.1	More Difficult
4W308	Shoestring	3.5	More Difficult
4W309	String	1.5	More Difficult
4W310	Frost	1	More Difficult
4W311	Buck Meadows	6.4	Easy
4W328	Wells Meadow	1.5	More Difficult
4W330	Tipover	2.3	Most Difficult
4W617	Lilly Pond Lake	1.9	Most Difficult
4W666
4W676	Kaner Flats	4.6	Most Difficult
4W694	Manastash Ridge Road	17.3	More Difficult
4W695	Moonrocks	2.3	More Difficult
4W900	Raven's Roost	8.5	More Difficult
4W944	Bald Mountain	3.2	Easy

Manastash Ridge

This rugged terrain, encompassing 115 sq miles, has some 68 miles of dedicated 4WD routes, rock crawling areas, and countless motorbike trails throughout the region known as Manastash Ridge. It is home to spectacular ridgeline vistas, dry fir and larch forests, small hidden lakes and clear blue skies during the summer. Fall and winter witness larch trees turning a fiery orange-yellow contrasting against the evergreens. The trails are typically closed during the winter months and parts of spring as they're buried under many feet of snow. During some particularly hot, dry summers the Forest Service may restrict campfire use or even access to prevent forest fires. Contact the Cle Elum Ranger Station prior to travel for the latest trail and fire conditions.

Directions: I-90 from Seattle

Take the Thorp Exit (exit 101) and turn right at the top of the off-ramp. After approx. 1-2 miles turn right (south) on Cove Rd. Continue on this main route for approx. 4 miles until it T's into Manastash Rd. Turn right on Manastash rd and follow this main route. The road transitions from pavement to gravel after 7 miles. 10 miles further up the now gravel road is Manastash Camp Ground.

Directions: Hwy 410 from Enumclaw/Puyallup/Tacoma

Take Hwy 410 over Chinook Pass. Approx 17 miles east of Chinook Pass is Forest Service Rd 19 and FS Rd 1708. Either of these are a gateway to the Manastash Ridge area.

